

Charity in Retford is awarded £150,000.00 after their innovative services impress major UK funder

The Garfield Weston Foundation more than doubles its £5m anniversary fund to over £11m to support over 150 charities across UK after overwhelming demand

Bassetlaw Action Centre, which promotes the independence of older and vulnerable people has been awarded £150,000.00 from one of the UK's largest charitable funders. The funding will enable the charity to purchase a building. The Garfield Weston Foundation says small community charities are rising to the challenge of facing unprecedented demand for their services by being proactive and innovative.

The Foundation has more than doubled its £5m capital fund to over £11m so it can support over 150 charities and community organisations across the UK.

The Weston Anniversary Fund was launched earlier this year to provide funding to charities to improve their existing facilities or provide new ones as part of the Foundation's 60th year. The Trustees took the decision to more than double the fund after receiving over 2,300 applications, with over 60% from charities that have never applied to them before.

Lynn Tupling, Chief Executive of Bassetlaw Action Centre says:

We welcome this Garfield Weston funding, as it will enable us to purchase a building to operate our valuable services for many years to come. Grant funding is becoming rare these days and the savings made on our annual rent expenditure can now be used to provide the many charitable services that we offer.

Penny B, who is supported by the charity says:

The volunteers from the Action Centre have been a lifeline to me. I have used the drivers to take me shopping since my husband died and I use their home support service to give me a bit of extra help with things I can no longer do. I think it is marvellous that they have been recognised for all the help they give to all of us.

The Garfield Weston Foundation's Director, Philippa Charles, says:

“What really impressed our Trustees is the amount of volunteering and community involvement that's going on across the UK. We heard about so many amazing projects involving local people who are helping their communities thrive - regardless of cuts, Brexit debates and other challenges.

The response from charities to this new fund clearly demonstrates the voluntary sector is proactive and energetic; far from the complacency it is sometimes accused of.

Yet we can also see the level of need that exists in our local communities and how much the services charities provide are so desperately needed. The impact of these grants will be significant, with benefits for many people lasting years.”

From community centres providing services for isolated older people to organisations tackling youth and gang crime, the funding from the Weston Anniversary Fund will help charities from across the UK provide more and better services in their communities. A recent survey by the Foundation found that two-thirds (66%) of small charities<sup>1</sup> expect their income to stay the same or decline this year, yet over half (55%) expect to be delivering more services. Getting help with refurbishments or a new building has been highlighted by charities as important as it helps them earn new income.

Garfield Weston Foundation

Celebrating its 60th anniversary in 2018, the Garfield Weston Foundation is a family-founded charitable grant-making foundation which supports causes across the UK with grants totalling over £60million each year. 2018 also marks its £1billionth donation since it was established.

One of the largest and most respected charitable institutions in the UK, the Weston Family Trustees are descendants of the founder and they take a highly active and hands-on approach. The Foundation’s funding comes from an endowment of shares in the family business which includes Twinings, Primark, Kingmill (all part of Associated British Foods Plc) and Fortnum & Mason amongst others - a successful model that still endures today; as the businesses have grown so too have the charitable donations.

From small community organisations to large national institutions, the Foundation supports a broad range of charities and activities that make a positive impact in the communities in which they work. Over 1,500 charities across the UK benefit each year from the Foundation’s grants.

The Bassetlaw Action Centre provides a range of sources of practical help, advice and information to older people, vulnerable people and people with long term health conditions. This includes a community transport project, a stroke/neuro support service, a housing advice service, home support, befriending, support to self-help groups and self-management courses for people with long term conditions.
