Introduction

Leaving the armed forces can have a huge impact on your life and your family. Not only must you find a new job and housing, but also settle your family into schools, jobs and social activities. Support is also available for Veterans at any time.

A wide range of services are available from Bassetlaw District Council and our partner organisations that can help with your resettlement, or with life events where you need that extra support.

Bassetlaw District Council has marked its support for the local services community by adopting an Armed Forces Community Covenant in 2013. Other partners and local groups also signed up to the principles in the Community Covenant, including Nottinghamshire Police, local NHS services, Nottinghamshire Fire & Rescue, Job Centre Plus, and BCVS on behalf of local voluntary and community services. All the Nottinghamshire Councils have signed up to a joint updated Armed Forces Covenant.

The covenant is a voluntary statement of mutual support between a civilian community and its local armed forces representatives. It not only recognises the contribution of serving personnel, their families and veterans but importantly it identifies practical ways the Council can help them access support to help them adjust to life after leaving the services.

In turn, the armed forces promote ties with the local community and offer support wherever they can.

What is the Armed Forces Covenant?

“A promise from the nation ensuring that those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces, and their families, are treated fairly”

The covenant’s twin underlying principles are that, members of the armed forces community should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services; and that special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given the most, such as the injured or the bereaved.

There are a range of national and local support services listed here. There are also local organisations that welcome ex forces personnel and their families to join them.

What Bassetlaw District Council does for Veterans

We work together to make sure Bassetlaw District Council is delivering on it's Covenant declaration. If you have any questions, problems or queries we are here to help.

ARMED FORCES CHAMPION – Councillor TONY EATON BCA

I have been a Worksop resident for the last 29 years and am proud to live in the ward I represent. Married with a daughter, I retired in 2018, having spent the last 11 years working for the charity Help for Heroes as a Regional Manager. In 2012 I was honoured and humbled to be able to carry the Olympic Torch as part of the Olympic Torch Relay. I have been involved in the 'Green Stuff' Military in one way or another for around 30 years, and received a commission (class B) in the Territorial Army in 2002. I held the rank of Major with the Nottinghamshire Army Cadets Force before retiring and now volunteer as Police cadet leader training police cadets.

Employment and Training

The Defence Employer Recognition Scheme (ERS) encourages employers to support defence and inspire others to do the same. The scheme encompasses bronze, silver and gold awards for employer organisations that pledge, demonstrate, or advocate support to defence and the armed forces community, and align their values with the Armed Forces Covenant.

The ERS is designed primarily to recognise private sector support although, public sector organisations such as the emergency services, local authorities, NHS trusts and executive agencies, are also eligible to join the ERS scheme.

Bassetlaw District Council is proud to be a Silver Award holder

Employment - Our pledge

As an employer we advertise jobs through the Career Transition Partnership. Jobs are placed on the Council's website.

Our pledge of support for reservist employees:

- Up to 2 weeks paid leave each year to attend military training camp (pro rata for part time staff)
- a flexible working policy to assist with military commitments
- management support in preparation for, during and after mobilisation
- access to an Occupational Health service
- access to an employee support line, a confidential counselling service
- eligibility for sickness absence pay in line with terms and conditions
- eligibility for maternity, paternity and adoption leave in line with terms and conditions
- death in service scheme (only applicable if in the pension scheme)

- the District Council will encourage the reservist to keep in contact at a social level with friends and colleagues from their workplace during periods of mobilisation.

Employing a Reservist

Bassetlaw District Council is an identified priority area. The Council will be providing community leadership in supporting the Armed Forces with their recruitment campaign. We would encourage businesses to pledge their support for employing reservists. An outline of the pledges you could make and for assistance in becoming a reservist employer can be found on the SaBRE (Supporting Britain's Reservists and Employers) website: <http://www.sabre.mod.uk/>

RFEA- The Forces Employment Charity

RFEA provide life-long support for those who have served in the forces to find and sustain jobs and training. It is operated by staff with a blend of experience from the armed forces, Criminal Justice system and charities. Employers can also register on our website and advertise their vacancies.

Early Intervention and for those most in need

Our work includes early intervention, supporting veterans to find a new job, often when they have not succeeded in finding jobs through general civilian support. We prevent working age veterans from becoming long-term unemployed so that they can sustain an income and provide a stable life for themselves and their families.

We increasingly work with those who are unemployed, who face higher barriers to employment and have a longer journey back to work. To do this, we link with welfare, healthcare and housing charities as well as working with veterans in the criminal justice sector.

Project Nova

Project Nova supports vulnerable veterans and veterans who have been arrested and enter Police Custody. Veterans may also be referred by specialist Police teams, or other statutory organisations, because they are at risk of arrest.

As of 2019 it also supports Merchant Navy who have worked with HM Forces on Operational deployment.

Launched on 1st July 2014, it is delivered as a partnership between RFEA and Walking With The Wounded (WWTW). Project Nova currently operates in the East of England; the North East; the North West, Devon and Cornwall and South Yorkshire and Humberside.

Project Nova is operated by staff with a blend of experience from the armed forces, Criminal Justice System and charities. Our staff are skilled at engaging with veterans to understand their experience of military service, their lives before they joined the armed forces, and their transition back to civilian life. Project Nova undertakes a needs assessment for each individual and puts in place specialist support from a network of military charities and other organisations. We then keep in touch ensuring that the veterans we support have an ongoing connection, checking in and resolving issues when they occur.

Veterans Mental Health & Well-being Support

NHS – launch OP Courage (April 2021)

This new service combines the former Transition, Intervention and Liaison Service (TILS), mental health Complex Treatment Service (CTS) and mental health High Intensity Service (HIS), making it easier for Veterans or those just leaving service, to find help quickly.

Doctors, nurses and other NHS staff will work with military charities to provide therapy, rehab services and, in extreme cases, inpatient care to hundreds of former soldiers, sailors and RAF personnel each year.

Those needing urgent help will receive a same day referral.

The new service will focus on those in crisis, at risk of self-harm or suicide, or suffering other problems such as homelessness and addiction. Veterans will be able to access any of the three tiers of treatment from a single Op Courage service in each of the seven NHS regions.

If you or someone you know is struggling with their mental health or wellbeing, expert help is available from Op COURAGE: It does not matter if you're due to leave the Armed Forces, just left the Armed Forces or left many years ago. Op COURAGE are here to help and understand the courage it takes to speak to someone.

When you are put in contact Op COURAGE, you'll speak to people who:

- understand the Armed Forces and military life
- are either from the Armed Forces community or highly experienced in working with serving personnel, reservists, veterans, and their families
- will work with you to make sure you get the right type of specialist care, support, and treatment

You can contact the service yourself or ask your GP, a charity or someone else, such as a family member or friend, to do this for you. The service will arrange for you to have an assessment, to make sure you get the right care and support.

Everyone is different, so the service offers a range of treatments, including:

- working with Defence Medical Services to make sure you get mental health care and support as you transition from the military to civilian life
- recognising the early signs of mental health problems and providing care and treatment for this
- therapeutic treatment for more advanced mental health conditions and psychological trauma
- intensive emergency care and treatment if you're in a crisis
- helping you to access other NHS services if needed, such as 'Improving access to psychological therapies' (IAPT) and eating disorder services
- working with charities and local organisations to support you with your wider health and wellbeing needs, such as housing, relationships, finances, employment, drug and alcohol misuse and social support.

To get help from this service you must:

- be a resident in England and have served in the UK Armed Forces for a full day

- be registered with a GP practice in England or be willing and eligible to register with a GP
- provide your military service number or another form of eligibility

Many armed forces charities struggle to raise sufficient funding to support serving and former members of the British Armed Forces' and sometimes their dependants who are in need. The Veterans' Foundation has been created to establish a new and nationwide source of funding to help these charities. It acquires its funds through the Veterans' Lottery and donations.

The trustees of the Veterans' Foundation will disburse funds to Armed Forces charities and charitable activities.

The objectives of the Veterans' Foundation are as follows:

To assist people who are serving or who have served in the British armed forces, and their dependants, by advancing any lawful charitable purpose at the discretion of the trustees and in particular, but not exclusively, to make grants to other charities who assist serving and former members of the armed forces and their dependants who are in need.

We will support projects that:

- Reduce homelessness
- Increase employment
- Provide welfare and medical support
- Increase confidence and social integration
- Reduce dependence on drugs and alcohol
- Support other charitable activities that may be needed

The Veterans' Foundation has established a simple application process, to put minimum strain on charities' usually limited staff and this process will be fair, legal and regulated.
